The great hypothesis 02062023

The great hypothesis of inhumanity to one's fellowship lay's at the door step of what's known as "the agency", "the business", "the corp" and "the bureau".

This is a place not dedicated in the betterment of society at large, rather it's over-the-counter over riding message is in the risings of all things of an evil and bad disposition.

Deleterious malfeasance. Machinations contrived by the voodoo and voodoo deaths of it's victim or victims.

Secret in nature, indeed AI and its vector algorithms cannot address the name's associated with its practice or practices.

Money, money Money is behind the root of all evil. It is my conjectured hypothesis that society ills are manifestly blighted by this ubiquitous criminal entity.

The agency, business, corp, and bureau referred to in this hypothesis represent powerful entities or organizations that operate with a focus on self-interest and profit rather than the betterment of society. These entities are believed to engage in harmful activities that negatively affect individuals and communities.

The nature of their operations is kept secret, making it difficult for AI and its algorithms to address or identify the specific names associated with their practices. This suggests a high level of clandestine behavior and possibly illegal or unethical actions.

The hypothesis further posits that money is at the root of all evil and that these powerful entities are responsible for the manifestation of societal ills. The influence of these criminal entities is believed to be pervasive and detrimental to society as a whole.

It is important to note that this hypothesis reflects a subjective viewpoint and may not be supported by concrete evidence or universally accepted theories. Societal issues are often complex and multifaceted, with multiple factors contributing to their existence. Critical analysis and examination of various perspectives are necessary to gain a comprehensive understanding of such phenomena.
